CAR REPAIR QUOTES, APPROVED BY TEXT, LINE BY LINE.

Mia's estimate

$300

Then her phone rings.

Bad rotors.
Factory ceramic pads.
A caliper service.

“Okay.
Just do it.”

She needs her car for the commute.
She isn't sure what she just approved.

Mia's bill

$1,120

What did she approve? Was any of it urgent?

Illustrative, based on one real brake job.

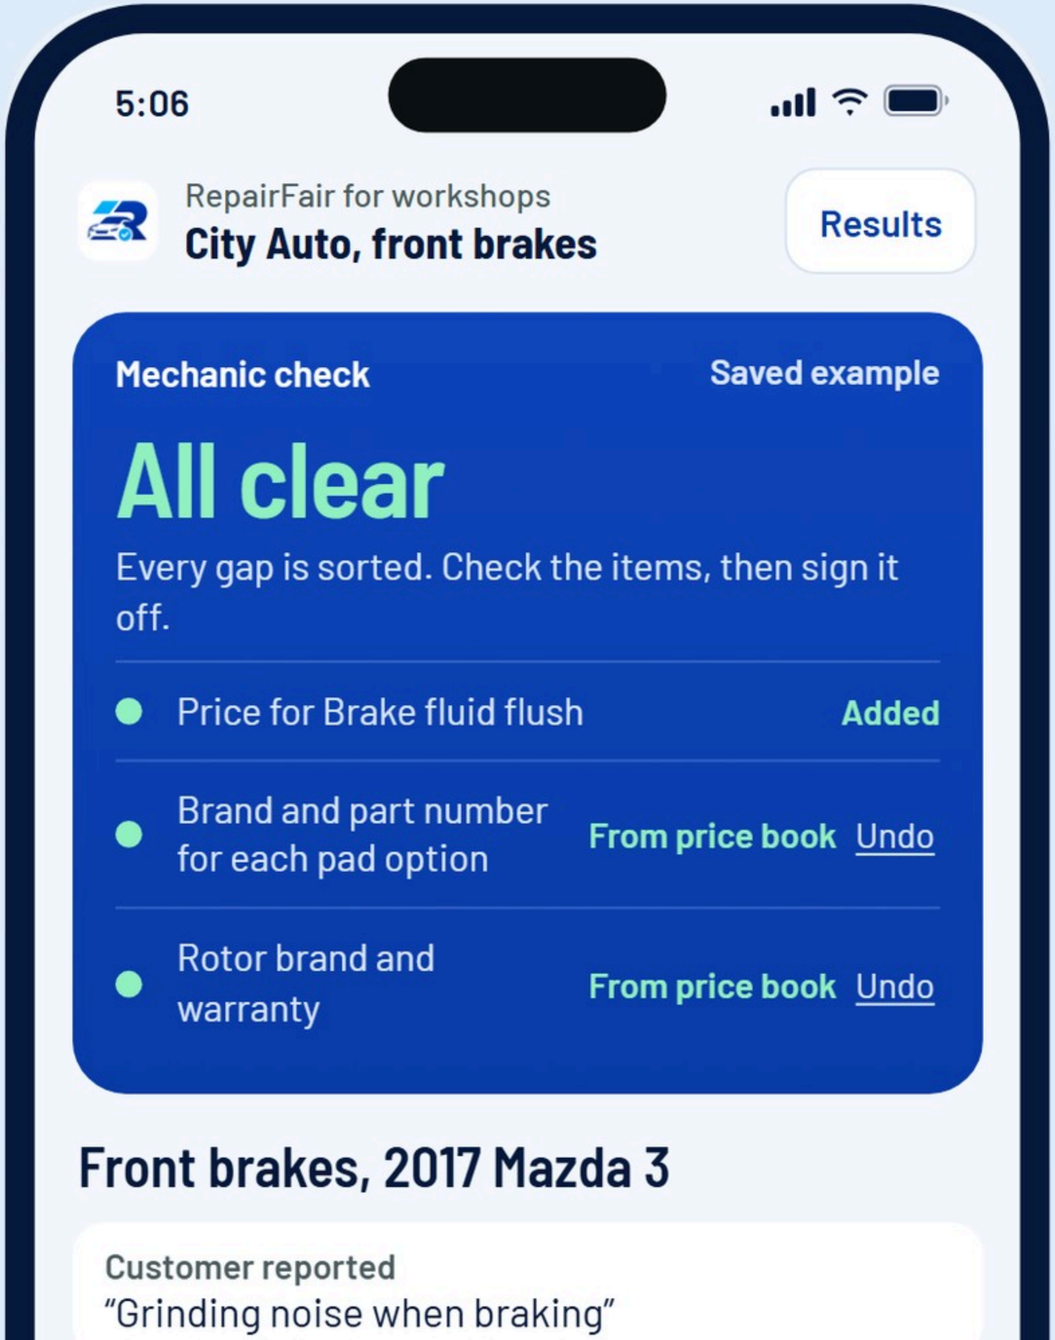

1 in 5

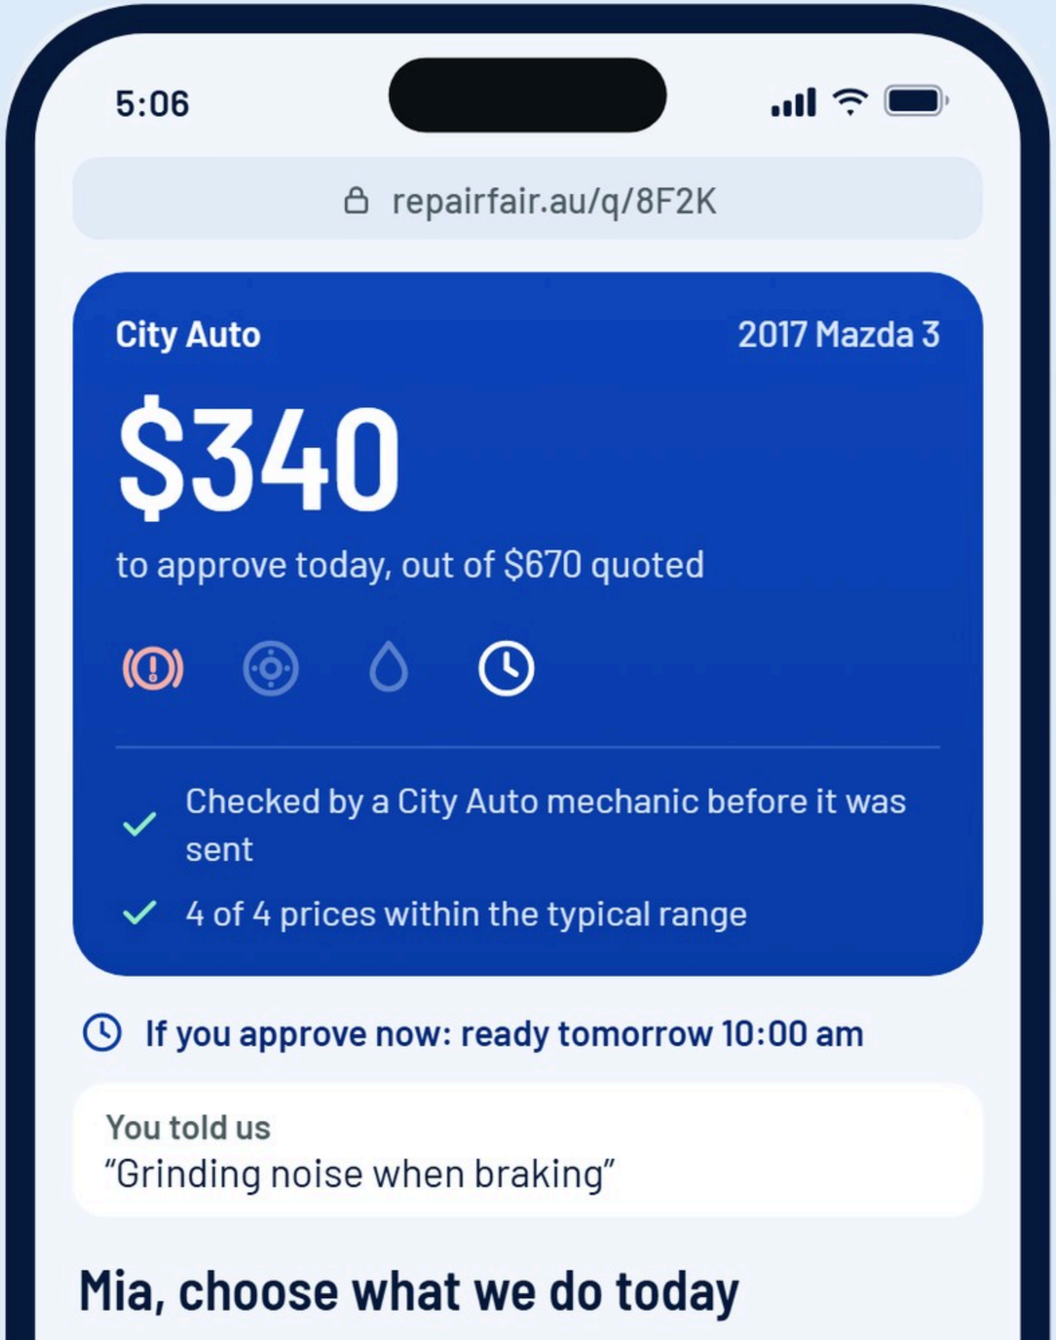

bad mechanic reviews are about surprise bills, unapproved work or work nobody needed.

AI-coded sample of 1,079 bad Google reviews across 90 Sydney workshops, not checked by a person.
In our driver interviews, 5 of 10 bills rose by more than 10%.

It's not trust.
It's the missing
record.

Every line.
Approved in writing.

Same brakes. No surprise.

✓ Front brake pads	$160
✓ Labour	$180
✓ Extra hose, approved mid-job	$130
Rotors: not now	~~$240~~
Final bill	$470

AI turns a mechanic's notes into a clear quote.

AI writes it up. The mechanic decides.

Front pads at 2mm, need doing now.
Rotors 22.4mm, can wait till next service.

How the review study worked

Sample	607 workshops found; 15 picked at random in each of 6 regions, from those with 5+ bad reviews
Reviews	60 lowest-rated reviews per workshop, names removed: 1,079 one- and two-star reviews with text
Result	20.5% (range 15–25%): 6% bills or approval, 16% unnecessary work, with some overlap
Coding	AI-coded. Two more AI coders agreed on 90–93% of a 60-review sample. Not checked by a person.
Checks	20.6% without flagged reviews; 16% without the biggest three workshops. Bad reviews are about 7% of all reviews.

Competitors and pricing

Product	A month, ex GST	Customer approval
Workshop Software	Silver $119 ($99 yearly); Gold $149 ($119 yearly)	Gold and above: link to approve. Two-way texting add-on from $49
MechanicDesk	From $85	Not confirmed
RepairFair (planned)	Free: 20 quotes. Pro $49: 300 texts, then 12c each. Founding workshops: first 6 months free	Line-by-line approval by text link $820k a year at 5% of workshops (illustrative). Break-even: $49 at about 40% kept after parts and wages, from the closest ATO benchmark. Our cost (estimate): about 20c a quote, mostly texts, plus $20–105 a month to host.

What's real in the prototype

Working

- AI quote from a mechanic's notes
- Suggested checks for the mechanic, not a diagnosis
- Mechanic check and price book
- Timestamped approvals in the app

Simulated or sample

- Both phones, texts and links
- Booking times and Send to Xero
- Parts price ranges and Results figures
- Mia and the $470 bill are a demo

Planned: the approved quote becomes the invoice, then goes to Xero.
